

About Tomii Academy CEO John Kim

John Kim is an Ivy League (University of Pennsylvania), double Master degree graduate (MBA, MPaff) and a financial analyst for 15+ years whose work has been featured by Reuters, the Wall Street journal, the UK Financial Times, the New York Times, the Washington Post, GATA, ZeroHedge and many more. After his postgraduate work, Mr. Kim secured employment as a Private Banker with one of the largest banks in America and also with a Wall Street firm in the highest profit margin office in the nation in Beverly Hills, California. After his employment left him deeply unsatisfied in his journey to find purpose and meaning in life, despite the corporate perks and salaries, Mr. Kim quit the corporate career path to begin an entrepreneurial life and took the first step of a fifteen year journey to create Tomii Academy. This journey became a labor of relentless work and love in Mr. Kim's quest to build a wealth building academy unlike any other in the world. Mr. Kim vowed that his Academy would not focus on the low utility business school theories he had learned during his MBA studies, but instead focus on applied knowledge. He further vowed that his Academy would not incorporate useless exams that tested regurgitation of memorized knowledge but would provide real world exercises that would show students how to apply Tomii Academy's knowledge in the real world to build wealth. In fact, with banks today offering a paltry $5,000 bonus deposit with a $1,000,000 cash deposit, Mr. Kim provided a simple strategy, executable by every single one of his paying Tomii Academy substack subscribers, that yielded a real profit of $321,818 on a $1,000,000 investment in just an eight week time span from mid-February to mid-April of 2024. And a $321,818 yield in two months versus a $5,000 yield on an entire year, on an original one million dollar investment is the difference in yields produced from real education provided by Tomii Academy and the false business education of extremely low utility obtained at "prestigious schools" like Wharton and Harvard. It is no wonder that John Kim's analysis has caught the attention of even billionaire like Eric Sprott.

However, as Mr. Kim quit the corporate investment world because of his disgust in witnessing low morals and the relentless exploitation of the innocent and naïve during his time spent in the higher echelons of the Industry, he also vowed to incorporate crucial elements into his Academy that would ensure that those that graduated from his Academy would not dwell among the soulless, morally directionless masses of people he witnessed in abundance during his corporate career. To this end, Mr. Kim developed a course about success that steers people away from the hollow, secular, and material focused definition of success that pervades social media channels and towards an intimately personal definition of success customized around a discovery of life experiences that bring each individual meaning and joy. Mr. Kim's meticulous research of the historicity of institutional academia confirmed his beliefs that the rich and powerful Ruling Class deliberately and systemically removed critical thinking skills from the academic system to suppress one of the most important aspects of education – intellectual reasoning and critical thinking abilities. In response, to reverse this dangerous course of global academics, Mr. Kim developed a course for his Tomii Academy with the specific intent in restoring necessary critical thinking skills in individuals to provide everyone with the mental fortitude and spiritual armor not to fall victim to the increasing darkness and lack of morality being instituted by the Ruling Class all around the world.

Mr. John Kim is highly regarded for his analysis of gold and silver markets, and as stated above, well-known Precious Metals billionaire Eric Sprott has praised Mr. Kim's gold market analysis in the past for his accurate analysis of gold and silver price anomalies.

Eric Sprott: Well, Tekoa, it has been very frustrating over the last four years with all the world and financial events we've witnessed. I have tended to suggest that gold should be a safe haven. I saw a great podcast by a fellow named JS Kim who noted that we've had these 6-7 standard deviation moves in lots of things like the US stock market, currencies, gold, and these things happen once every 333 million lifetimes, and yet we've experienced all these. He further noted that the central banks want things to happen the way they want them to happen so that people believe they have control of things. Certainly Rick, John Embry and myself have always believed that there is a mandate to keep precious metal prices low.

The only thing that needs correction in the above is that Mr. Sprott misquoted Mr. Kim in stating "333 million lifetimes", a statistic that Mr. Kim calculated to be "33 million lifetimes". And despite this article being a few years old now, as we witnessed Central Bankers denigrate gold and silver as poor investments to start 2024 and the Industry praised BTC as a wonderful investment, with gold and silver's significant rise in price in Q1 2024, the critical importance of Mr. Kim's above analysis should be self-evident by now. Above, Mr. Sprott relayed Mr. Kim's warning of the methodology Central Bankers use to deceive the world about the importance of holding physical gold and silver in one's portfolio by their creation of artificial temporary downward price manipulations in gold and silver prices, exactly like the type they created during Chinese New Years 2024. However, gold and silver's very strong performance in Q1 2024, following its downward price manipulation during Chinese New Years 2024, perfectly illustrated how Central Bankers chase the naïve and uneducated out of strong markets by creating temporary false perceptions of extreme weakness.

And those armed with traditional educations bestowed upon them by the London School of Business or Harvard Business School cannot understand the above, while everyone educated by Tomii Academy received multiple warnings to buy silver at lows of $22 an ounce in February of 2024.

In 2023, Mr. Kim's calls on when to buy and sell BTC, as well as his weekly gold and silver price analysis delivered to his patrons on the patreon platform and his call to short AMC stock on his substack platform before it immediately crashed 70% in share price are just a few examples of the necessity to separate propaganda from fact when making critical investment decisions. As well, every single buy and sell call Mr. Kim has provided for BTC since late 2020 until today would have grown an initial $100,000 investment into $660,000. Mr. Kim accrued a loyal following on social media, racking up more than 13M views on his former YouTube channel, before constant shadowbanning and demonetization forced him offline and committed to completing Tomii Academy as his platform to deliver financial and wealth building truth to the masses. Whereas Google, the owner of YouTube, relentlessly censored his YouTube channel and prevented Mr. Kim from speaking truth to power, no one can censor the truth Mr. Kim wishes to bring to the world through the launch of Tomii Academy. If you read the fact sheets posted on our homepage, you will discover that it is Mr. Kim's plan to keep fighting the darkness in this world with the light of truth and education, long after he has departed this world.

Mr. Kim has gained a reputation for scooping critical investment and financial events often weeks and months before even the largest financial sites in the world report them, and his unique perspectives and different outlooks on some of the biggest financial stories have garnered his articles millions of reads. Mr. Kim discussed banker gold and silver price manipulation decades before the mainstream was willing to broach this subject, called the US stock market crash in 2008, the exact price top of BTC in 2017, the exact price bottom of BTC in July 2021, another BTC price top again in November 2021, the silver price top in 2021 at $30 and much more!
